- NO-DIG LIVE - The hub of the industry and the only UK event to focus on trenchless technology
- Must-attend event for anyone involved in the installation or refurbishment of underground utilities including underground infrastructure and pipelining
- Over 120 companies exhibiting from the UK and overseas
- NO-DIG LIVE plays host to visitors from over 25 countries
- Live outdoor demonstrations - A MUST SEE FOR ENGINEERS!
- Bank your free CPD points as part of your visitor's ticket

Westrade gets set for biggest No-Dig Live Event in its 30-year history

NO-DIG LIVE is not just another exhibition - it's also a live working environment and the only forum in the UK where manufacturers and suppliers can display and demonstrate products at an event which is truly focused on trenchless technology.

No-Dig Live is three days of research, learning, networking and real business. The event is a rare opportunity for you and other industry professionals to get face-to-face with a selection of experts with detailed knowledge about every aspect of the underground utility sector. On the exhibition floor you can learn about new trends, find the latest local and international products and quiz manufacturers and distributors about how they might help in your next project.

We've got a full programme of conferences and CPD Certified workshops.

Live Demonstrations

This is where trenchless technologies come to life! The outdoor area has attracted a marked increase in bookings from companies wanting to show their equipment and products in live working conditions. A number of demonstrations are carried out on demand, whilst some of the more complex operations will be scheduled at specific times – check the timetables on arrival at the show.

Indoor Displays

The exhibition of products and services presents the finest display of trenchless technology exhibited by a wide range of companies from the UK and overseas. This is an excellent opportunity to meet representatives from a range of companies, and compare and review products available for a variety of applications.

Exhibitor Listings

Check out the growing list of exhibitors at the show website www.nodiglive.co.uk Several videos are also posted in the Exhibitor Listing section, so you can get a sneak preview of some technologies that will be on display.
